Editor's Column

Barry R. Goldman

Like I said in my previous column, "It's HOT in Arizona! This year's Conference & Educational event promises to be REALLY HOT!", and it

If you were there, there was some pretty heated discussion about some issues. Our former VP, Sean Laman argued passionately against the change in the APSA Bylaws. (Sean resigned soon after the Conference and is pursuing other interests.) The (overwhelming) majority approved the change. They are posted in the coming pages.

There was also some pretty heated discussion about the fact that the changes in serving writs of garnishment went unchallenged by APSA. Well, that boils down to one thing — VOLUNTEERS!

We need you!

APSA has been a mostly all volunteer organization and like any volunteer organization, it's pretty thankless. (Think about the non-paid members of your local school board.)

Like I told a friend of mine, if you want to see change, you have to get involved. If you want to protect your interests, you NEED to get involved.

There are plenty of things that APSA needs you for — and don't think that it takes a lot of your time. It really doesn't. Think about it. What are you doing in your spare time? Watching football and eating potato chips on your living room couch? You could be spending some quality time helping other process servers and your self. Mentoring, educating and researching are just some of the things I like to do. What's your passion? Politics? Have a gander at our state legislators and follow the bills they submit. It can be pretty interesting, frustrating and educational. (Yes, these are the people you voted for—or not.) Our new slate of Officers and Directors will bring in some of the old and some of the new. Ron Ezell was elected to be President.

Larry Ratcliff the VP, Tamara Nieto is our new Secretary/Treasurer, and our new Board Members are John Osborn, Ron Wyman and Nathan Botsch.

I won't be on the Board any longer. Instead, I've taken the job as APSA Administrator, doing many of the administrative tasks that are necessary to run the Association.

Kelli McFarland will sit on the Board as our Immediate Past President.

APSA has been around since 1973. It's been the voice of process serving in Arizona, and the biggest reason for that voice is the people who have been a part of our Association.

This year, we bid goodbye to Patty Chlebanowski, our long-time Secretary. Truly, she has been one of the major pieces of APSA, not only maintaining our Association's records, but volunteering and serving our members for many years. How many? Ask Patty and she'll be able to tell you for sure.

I, for one will surely miss her. I can guarantee others will, too.

Our next Board meeting is on December 7th in Tucson. Come down (or up) and say hello, sit in, and get involved. We'd love to see you.

Secretary's Corner

Patty Chlebanowski, Secretary

Hello fellow members - As I write my last secretary notes to you all, I think of the great times I have had with many of you. I hope to see you in the future, while I will not be at every event, I still hope that you get involved with your Association and join a committee. Every volunteer is important and you can contribute just a small amount of time to spread the duties around so your board is not over whelmed with their duties. It has been a great experience and sometimes hard but joyful times that I have spent with all of you. It is just time to lighten my load and concentrate on slowing down for maybe a near future retirement.

I hope you are ready for the upcoming holidays with the family. May the New Year which is right around the corner bring you health and prosperity.

Please think about helping your organization out.

October 28, 2019

Good morning everyone,

Many of you know me, some personally, some professionally, but for those of you that are not familiar with me I would like to introduce myself.

My name is Larry Ratcliff and I am the co-owner of L.R. Investigations and Process Service located in the White Mountains of Arizona. We personally serve documents in Navajo County, Apache County and most parts of Gila County.

I have been a Board member of the Arizona Process Servers Association for approximately 20 years and have been serving legal documents for approximately 32 years.

Most recently I have been elected to serve APSA as your Vice President.

During my term it will be my task to assist the President in his duties and to assist with continuing education.

2020 will be a new, exciting year for APSA with new classes, new administration and a continued commitment to professionalism.

We will also be saying so long to our good friend and Secretary Patty Chlebanowski. We will miss her and Wayne and want to thank them for all they have done for our association over the past 30 years.

Please feel free to contact me or any of the other officers or Board members with any questions or concerns you may have about our association.

In the meantime, Happy Thanksgiving, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Volunteer Lawyers Program

Volunteering... It's an opportunity to use your talents for something good APSA was recently approached for assistance by Community Legal Services, Inc., (www.clsaz.org) a non-profit organization. The Volunteer Lawyers Program is a division of Community Legal Services in partnership with the Maricopa County Bar Association. Their services vary—they are a non-profit serving the low-income Arizonans who need equal access to our justice system.

They need process servers.

I was informed that most of the process servers who have come forward to offer their services at a reduced or pro-bono rate have retired, and the organization is in need of servers willing to offer their services. I was told that many of the services are paid for directly by the attorneys representing the indigent. Fees would always be negotiated between counsel and the process server. Not every serve would be pro-bono.

So, here's the bottom line: They need you to volunteer to be a process server willing to contribute to your community. It's not much. The job pays well, and the benefits are great. (Not everything is about money.)

Interested persons should contact Patricia Gerrich, Esq. Director of the Volunteer Lawyers Program

Email: pgerrich@clsaz.org Phone: 602-258-3534 ext. 2630.

ADOT MVD Director Donates kid-sized Tesla and U-Haul to Phoenix Children's Hospital Foundation

Kids needing medical treatment and their families have a little something to smile about today: a new kid-sized Tesla and U-Haul trailer!

Arizona Department of Transportation Motor Vehicle Division Director Eric Jorgensen recently won these unique pint-size vehicles in a no-cost raffle at a regional meeting of motor vehicle administrators.

Director Jorgensen wanted to donate the vehicles to a worthy cause. As a supporter of the work done by the people at Phoenix Children's Hospital, Eric believed children who need medical treatment and their families would benefit from a donation like this.

U-Haul had originally donated the vehicles to be raffled, and the estimated value is Kelli read the letter to the attendees from Kate Novak from the Supreme Court.

Patty gave a very tearful goodbye speech to all the membership. This Association has meant a lot to her and along with her father George Demyan and Ron Ezell who were two of the founding members she has grown up in this association. She has been on and off the board serving for 40 plus years. She has met many process servers and had become great friends and acquired BFF'S with several members over the course of her years. It was an experience I will cherish always. Patty thanked everyone for their kind words that many of you personally said to me today as I depart the board.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT:

Barry Goldman reported his full written report is on Page 29 thru 31 in the Conference Pamphlet. He mentioned one of the legislators was retiring and could possibly help process server changes in the future.

Barry discussed a few Rule Changes; Constables are now able to serve family law matters. Justice court complaints are now at 90 days for dismissal if not served.

Barry explained a few Statute changes; which allows Writ of Garnishments on banks to be served by certified mail. Ron Ezell did talk about this a little more in detail how this came about through Collection attorneys and the banking industry. He feels the majority of discussion he has had, this will be done on small Judgments only, so they would not miss any time delay on catching a large bank account.

Also regarding Protective Order, process servers can still serve Injunction Against Harassment and workplace Injunction but Orders of Protection must be served by the Constable, Sheriff or Police Department. A long discussion followed after a member felt this should have been caught so we could have had some more input instead of after the Larry Ratcliff re-introduced Charlie Laman our legal liaison for the Association. He stated, what he was going to point out to the membership is what was just discussed.

APSC v. Patriot Disposal

FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

- APSC sued Patriot and several other defendants alleging negligence on the part of a Patriot employee. APSC attempted to serve Patriot's statutory agent, Jay Eby, on two consecutive days in early February 2018. According to the certificate of attempted service from APSC's process server, Eby "was not in" and the process server was told Eby "does not keep regular hours." On February 9, APSC sent Andre Carman, Patriot's general counsel, a copy of the complaint and a waiver of service form. Carman never returned the form and Patriot never waived service. On March 21, APSC filed a certificate of service stating that APSC had served Patriot through the Arizona Corporation Commission on March 14.
 - APSC's attempted service of Patriot by serving the Corporation Commission pursuant to Rule 4.1(j)(1) was deficient. Rule 4.1(j) does not apply to corporations with a statutory agent in Arizona. See Blair v. Burgener, 226 Ariz. 213, 217, ¶ 10 (App. 2010) (prior version of Rule 4.1(j) did not apply to corporations with an agent in Arizona). Instead, Rule 4.1(i) applies when a corporation has an officer or agent authorized to receive service present in Arizona. It is uncontested that Eby is authorized to accept service and was present in Arizona. Thus, Rule 4.1(i) applies. If Patriot's agent could not be served or was attempting to avoid service, the proper remedy was to move for alternative service under Rule 4.1(k). APSC did not do so and thus failed to properly serve Patriot. The judgment is therefore void for lack of personal jurisdiction. See Martin v. Martin, 182 Ariz. 11, 15 (App. 1994). Because the judgment is void, the trial court erred in denying Patriot's motion to set aside under Rule 60(b)(4).

Alan Singer, Fort Mohave Plaintiff/Appellant

The Mullan Law Firm, P.C., Bullhead City By Anthony Joseph Mullan, Jr. Counsel for Defendants/Appellees

NOTICE: NOT FOR OFFICIAL PUBLICATION.UNDER ARIZONA RULE OF THE SUPREME COURT 111(c), THIS DECISION IS NOT PRECEDENTIALAND MAY BE CITED ONLY AS AUTHORIZED BY RULE.

Singer v. Palmer, et al

- II. Service of Process on Palmer, a Non-Indian, on a Reservation Within the State of Arizona
- ¶11 Singer argues that when a non-Indian defendant is served on a reservation within the State and the subject matter concerns off-reservation activities, service of process in compliance with the Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure is valid. We agree.
- ¶12 A reservation is "subject to [a state's territorial] jurisdiction, so that process may run there, however the Indians themselves may be exempt from that jurisdiction." Langford v. Monteith, 102 U.S. 145, 147 (1880). For example, "service of process by the sheriff on a non-Indian within that part of the reservation within Arizona is valid," but that same service of process is invalid when the defendant is Indian and on his or her tribe's reservation. State v. Zaman, 194 Ariz. 442, 443, ¶¶ 2, 4 (1999). In Arizona, methods of service on Indian reservations, other than by the sheriff, are also authorized under Rule 4, including service by certified private process servers. Dixon v. Picopa Constr. Co., 160 Ariz. 251, 259 (1989).
- ¶13 In this case, Palmer is a non-Indian and was served by a private process server certified under Rule 4. Relying on Zaman, the superior court found that service of process was insufficient because service on the Tribe's reservation must be executed by the sheriff or a person that is certified under the Rules of Civil Procedure for the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Community Court. But the argument that service of process upon a non-Indian while on tribal lands must comport with that tribe's rules of civil procedure was directly rejected in Zaman.⁴ 194 Ariz. at 444,

Barry R. Goldman ©2018 Barry R. Goldman

¶ 14. That court reasoned that "[p]roceedings in the Superior Court of Arizona are governed by the Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure." Id. Zaman's only pertinent requirement is that, when serving process on a non-Indian within tribal lands, the process server must be certified under the Arizona Rules of Civil Procedure. Id. Nor does Zaman vest the power to serve process under these circumstances exclusively upon the sheriff. Id. at 443, ¶ 4; see also id. at 445, ¶ 19 (Jones, J., concurring) ("It is not necessary in every case that civil litigants employ the county sheriff to serve process on non-Indians on tribal lands The Rules provide alternative means").

¶14 Because Singer employed a private process server certified under Rule 4(e) to serve process on Palmer, a non-Indian, the service of process on the Tribe's reservation was valid. See Zaman, 194 Ariz. at 444, ¶ 14; see also Burnham v. Superior Court of Cal., 495 U.S. 604, 617-18 (1990). Accordingly, the superior court erred when it found that Singer's service of process on Palmer was insufficient, and we reverse that portion of the dismissal order.

Oklahoma Process Server Shot by Defendant

Process server testifies as shooter bound over for trial: 'You get threatened a lot,' but this was '1 in a million'

By Samantha Vicent Tulsa World Aug 27, 2019

A Tulsa County judge found probable cause on Monday to believe that a 2018 Oklahoma gubernatorial candidate committed a felony when he shot a process server in July, though the man maintains his actions are legally justified.

Four witnesses testified in a preliminary hearing in the case against 36-year-old Christopher Jonathan Barnett, who faces a single count of assault and battery with a deadly weapon in the July 24 incident that occurred on his south Tulsa property.

Barnett, who is in custody at the Tulsa County jail without bail, is also charged in a separate case with threatening an act of violence against the University of Tulsa and two TU employees in posts on his website, Transparency for Oklahomans. A preliminary hearing in that case will take place Sept. 30.

Special Judge James Keeley ordered Barnett to return to court Sept. 3 in the assault case for trial court arraignment before District Judge Tracy Priddy. Barnett ran for governor in the 2018 Republican primary, placing eighth out of 10 candidates with 5,223 votes, or 1.16% of all votes cast.

"He (Barnett) pointed a gun. He said, 'You're gonna be dead.' He fired a gun," Assistant District Attorney Mark Collier said of the altercation that resulted in the process server's being shot in his left elbow.

But defense attorney Brendan McHugh contended his client's actions were justified, saying the man "never once identified himself as a process server" when he knocked on the Barnetts' front door to attempt to serve legal documents. McHugh filed a motion earlier this month asking for Barnett to receive immunity from prosecution under Oklahoma's Stand Your Ground law. Priddy is expected to hear testimony and rule on that issue ahead of any possible jury trial.

Trey Barnett, Christopher Barnett's husband, was the first witness to testify, saying he "just heard Chris telling the guy he needed to leave" their property before the shooting. The Tulsa World obtained from the Tulsa County Court Administrator's Office a copy of the process server's audio recording of the altercation, which showed that Chris Barnett said three times in 42 seconds that the process server would be dead if he did not leave.

When asked whether he heard his husband make those comments, Trey Barnett told Collier, "Not that I recall," and said, "He told Chris he needed to open the door, come outside and face him." The recording the World obtained does not capture the process server saying what Trey Barnett described, but he is heard telling Chris Barnett, "I'll wait for you out here. OK?" while standing on the couple's front lawn. The process server said he turned on a recording app on his phone when he arrived at the residence and did not turn it off until he needed to call 911 for the gunshot wound to his elbow, which fractured. He told District Attorney Steve Kunzweiler he believed he was about 20 feet from the front door when he said he would wait for Barnett, and he clarified that he meant he would be in his vehicle.

Man gets 40 years for fake legal filings

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) - A Florida man has been sentenced to 40 years in prison for filing numerous fake legal documents against public officials.

Lee County court records show that 45-year-old Randal Rosado was sentenced Friday. He was convicted in July of six counts of unlawful retaliation against public officials and 13 counts of simulating legal process.

Authorities say Rosado created his own court and then filed arrest warrants, fictitious court orders and liens against real judges, the Lee County Clerk of Court and several lawyers. Many of the fake filings were related to foreclosures.

Prosecutors say Rosado's views are consistent with the sovereign citizen movement.

Sovereign citizens believe they are separate or "sovereign" from the U.S. government, even though they physically reside in the country. They generally believe they don't have to answer to any government authority, including courts and taxing entities.

Apartment forecast: Projected 32% gain in new apartments but multifamily sales slowing some

By Mike Sunnucks | Rose Law Group Reporter

The Phoenix region is expected to see a 32 percent jump in new apartment developments this year.

That is according to a new forecast from Kasten Long Commercial Group. The commercial brokerage firm expects to see 47 new apartment projects completed in metro Phoenix this year bringing 10,811 new units to the market.

That would be a 32 percent gain from last year, according to Kasten Long.

There are 59,352 new multifamily units in the pipeline. Population gains in Maricopa and Pinal counties along with the continued current economic expansion keep driving new apartment construction.

Stolen Valor: Two men lied about being veterans. The judge's sentence: Wear signs saying 'I am a liar.'

By Alex Horton

August 27, 2019 at 6:02 AM EDT

In the first days of the U.S. war in Afghanistan in 2001, a Blackhawk shuddered through a Pakistani dust storm before it crashed. Two soldiers were killed on board, including Pfc. Kristofor T. Stonesifer, a 28-year-old Army Ranger from Missoula, Mont.

Nearly 18 years after Stonesifer's obituary was written, two men who lied about their military service are being told to rewrite it by hand —along with 39 other obituaries of soldiers from Montana.

Ryan Patrick Morris, 28, and Troy Allan Nelson, 33, were both sentenced for separate crimes Friday by Cascade Coun-

Morris received 10 years in prison for violating probation after a felony burglary and falsely claimed he was injured by an IED explosion during one of seven combat tours, the Associated Press reported. Nelson was sentenced to five years for drug possession and enrolled in a veterans court before it was discovered he isn't a veteran at all.

The judge said their claims were "abhorrent to the men and women who have actually served our country," the Great Falls Tribune reported. "You've not respected the veterans. You've not respected the court. And you haven't respected vourselves."

But within his sentencing, the Montana judge gave them a chance for parole — if they abide by certain conditions.

Both must hand-write the names of all 6,756 Americans killed in Iraq and Afghanistan to qualify for future parole, along with the obituaries of the 40 Montana soldiers in that group. They must also complete 441 hours of community service after being released from prison. That adds up to an hour per Montanan killed in combat going back to the Korean War.

Morris and Nelson must serve seven and three years, respectively, and they would be eligible for parole part of the way through if they meet those conditions, county attorney Joshua Racki said Monday.

But if they decline or fail to meet the requirements, the men must serve out their entire sentences without a shot at early release, Racki said.

Additionally, while on probation, they must wear placards on Memorial Day and Veterans Day outside the Montana Veterans Memorial with a sign that reads: "I am a liar. I am not a veteran. I stole valor. I have dishonored all veterans," the AP reported.

Veterans courts are designed to help veterans with nonviolent charges that may have been prompted by service-related issues, like post-traumatic stress disorder or traumatic brain injury, and funnel them to treatment rather than jail.

Both men apologized for lying to the court. "I'd like to offer my deepest apology to any veterans out there that I've disrespected," Morris told Pinski in 2016 after his original sentence.

Attorneys for both men objected to the sign stipulation, the AP reported. Mark Frisbie, who represented Morris, said his client was not charged under the Stolen Valor Act of 2013, which criminalizes false claims of service for personal benefit, but he was being punished as if he were, the AP said. Frisbie declined to comment. Pinski cited a Supreme Court case that allowed stolen valor to be taken into account for the placard requirement.

Cicero, IL: We don't want no stinkin' subpoenas

Serve a town president, go directly to jail

Ask William Rivera what he does, and he'll tell you he's a private process server. But, according to WGN-TV and the Chicago Tribune, he's also the victim of a political heavy hand.

"He doesn't look like a tough guy. He seems rather hapless, and a little sad. And if you were him, you'd be sad too" writes

Chicago Tribuine writer John Kass on August 23rd. "...while in Cicero trying to serve a subpoena to Cicero Town President Larry Dominick, Rivera got tossed in jail. Then Cicero cops went to his home in Chicago and searched his house, allegedly without a warrant, and scared his wife." See:

Police Impersonator Pulls Over Van Full of

Cops By Ellen Yan [Newsday 2019-08-21 at 3:45 PM]

HICKSVILLE, N.Y. — A driver used an air horn and emergency lights to pull over a van Friday in Hicksville — but it happened to be occupied by Nassau County detectives so he tried to escape by speeding off, Nassau police said.

Valiery Portlock, 25, tried to pull over an unmarked van carrying electronics squad detectives, police said. The van stopped and as detectives approached with their police shields and identified themselves, Portlock drove off, swerving onto oncoming traffic, police said. Speeding at 85 mph, he got onto the Long Island Expressway, authorities said, and Nassau police highway patrol officers soon spotted the vehicle and stopped it.

Portlock was arrested and charged with first-degree criminal impersonation of an officer — a felony — second-degree reckless endangerment and unlawful fleeing from a police officer — both misdemeanors — as well as several vehicle and traffic violations, according to online court records. He was arraigned and released on his own recognizance.

Graham County: Court clerk's removal from office raises legal questions

It was a rough first year on the job for Cindy Woodman. The Graham County Superior Court clerk was in her first-ever role in the political arena, and some felt she was in over her head.

Within months after Woodman, a dental hygienist, took office, her critics said she created a hostile workplace environment, pushing some staffers to quit.

But among several alleged mistakes, her mishandling of evidence in a felony case was the final straw for many in the county, including Graham County Superior Court Judge Michael Peterson. He was so fed up with what he saw as incompetence that he compiled her mistakes and convinced the Arizona Supreme Court's chief justice to effectively remove her from office.

Nobody Likes to be Served (Part 2) — It's All About the Money.

When the Plaintiff has sent the Defendant a copy of the Summons and Complaint by mail, and the Defendant fails to return the signed Waiver of Service (at least 30 days after the request was sent), the Plaintiff must then engage a Process Server (or the Sheriff or Constable) to achieve service. In Arizona, ARCP Rule 4.1(c)(2) (Failure to Waive) hits the defendant with costs.

If a defendant fails without good cause to sign and return a waiver requested by a plaintiff, the court must impose on the defendant:

- (A)the expenses later incurred in making service; and
- (B) the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, of any motion required to collect those service expenses.

If I had to devise a college curriculum, I would start with the goal of building one that instills confidence, develops courage, and embraces risk taking. I would seek out teaching students how to speak, how to write and how to communicate effectively. If someone graduated from my program and could grasp my hand firmly and hold a hand shake, make and keep eye contact with me, had shoulders out, had a voice that projected and body language that owned the room and could speak intelligently and confidently on most every topic, gently transitioning from one point to the next, holding court with diverse groups, arguing without being argumentative, sharing opinions while recognizing and appreciating the opinions of others - if such a student came forth from my curriculum, then I would know I settled upon the right one, the perfect one, a transformative one. That's what I want for my boys and for all college students.

I ran into an elderly private investigator a few days ago while pulling public records at the courthouse. When asked what the key to his long term success was, he replied, "You have to have a lot of dog in you." He went on to speak about grit and determination. Absolute truth.
